Anyone can use the library's subscription to Newspapers.com at any of the three Carlsbad City Library branches. It is also accessible from home by using your Carlsbad City Library card number and the link to Newspapers.com on the Genealogy page of the Library's website.

The screenshot shows the Newspapers.com World Collection interface. At the top, there are navigation tabs: SEARCH, BROWSE, PAPERS, and CLIPPINGS. A search bar is prominently displayed with the text "Search a keyword or name" and a magnifying glass icon. Below the search bar, there is a button labeled "See papers by location".

On the left side, there is a "Date Range" section with a bar chart showing the number of newspapers available from 1687 to 2029. Below this is a "Get Started" section with a "HELP WANTED" badge and a link to "Tutorials & video to help you get started using the website. Start now".

The main content area is titled "Papers in This Collection" and features three newspaper listings:

- Oakland Tribune: Oakland, California, 814,116 pages.
- The Courier News: Blytheville, Arkansas, 164,312 pages.
- Logansport Pharos-Tribune: Logansport, Indiana, 346,284 pages.

Below the newspaper listings is a "Recent Clippings" section with three clipping examples:

- The Bridgeport Telegram: Bridgeport, Connecticut, Sun, Sep 4, 1955 - Page 52. Clipped 1 minute ago by paulconanjr.
- Lebanon Daily News: Lebanon, Pennsylvania, Wed, Nov 2, 1977 - Page 44. Clipped 3 minutes ago by R_Victor_Shanaman.
- Norman A Wing Funeral: American Fork, Utah, Thu, Jan 6, 1955 - 4. Clipped 3 minutes ago by jmecham55.

A tip box on the left side of the interface reads: "Tip: If you ever need a refresher on what we cover today, read and watch some of the tutorials on the homepage."

How to Browse for Newspapers
There are several methods for determining what newspapers are available.

How to Browse for Newspapers
There are several methods for determining what newspapers are available.

First, you can browse the database by location. Click on:

 See papers by location

The numbered pins show how many newspapers are available from that area. Zoom in to further narrow down the location. Clicking on the pin will give you a list of the newspapers in that area.

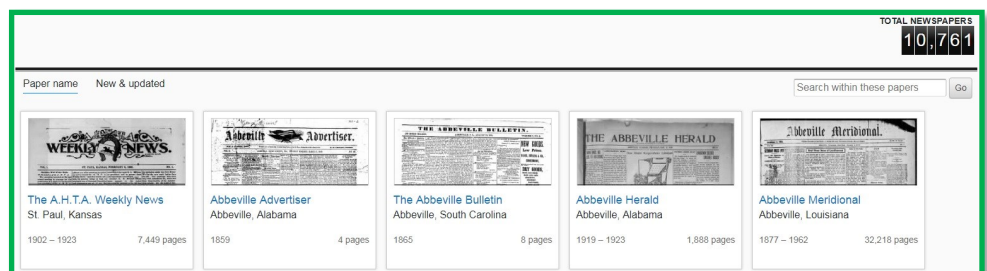

A second technique is to browse through an alphabetical list of the available newspapers. From the homepage, click on the “see all” link next to “Papers in This Collection”.

Note: You can also click on “Papers” on the top task bar of the homepage.

On the left side you will see places where you can narrow your search by Title, Date or Location.

Papers in This Collection

See all→

A third technique would be to click on “Browse” on the top task bar of the homepage. With this method you can quickly narrow by country, state, city, newspaper and date.

World Collection Account Tips & Tricks:

World Collection account:

World Collection account is a free (or paid) Newspapers.com account with both pros and cons.

Pros:

1. You can easily create clippings using the clip button.
2. You can save your clippings directly to an Ancestry.com account, if you have one.
3. If you find a clipping of interest which has already been created by another user, you can comment on the clipping or even contact the person who made it, by clicking on their user name.
4. You can save your searches and view your clippings, and go back to them anytime on your profile page.

Cons:

1. All of your clippings will default as public and other users will be able to contact you or comment on your clippings, unless you click the gear icon when creating the clipping and uncheck the "public" box. You can also change your privacy preferences in your Account Details. Go to "Clipping settings" and choose not to make new clippings public. Finally, you can go to "My Clippings" and manually edit whether each clipping is public or not.
2. You may start to receive a lot of e-mails from Newspapers.com.

Online Resources

Chronicling America

chroniclingamerica.loc.gov

Chronicling America offers information about U.S. Newspapers from 1789-1963. There are over 14 million digitized pages, which can be searched, viewed, and downloaded.

Users can search by:

Page

- ⇒ Completed by search word. To narrow the search, enter in a state and/or a date range you're searching for.

Advanced Search

- ⇒ Choose a state or newspaper to search by, then include further details like year/date range, language, search words, etc.

Newspaper

- ⇒ Find a specific newspaper to view and browse. Once you've found a newspaper of interest, you can view the pages that have been digitized, or find out how to access them.

Newspaper Directory

- ⇒ Discover what newspapers existed for your search and how to access them.

Once you've found a page, you can:

Browse the pages in the issue

Browse other issues of the newspaper

Download the page

Create a clipping to print/download

- ⇒ When creating a clipping, there are no cropping tools. The clipping will be based on what you are zoomed into, so use the red guidelines to determine what will be included in the clipping.

The screenshots illustrate the workflow on the Chronicling America website. The top interface shows the main search options, including filters for digitized newspapers and the newspaper directory. The middle section displays search results for digitized newspapers, listing titles, states, and date ranges. The bottom section shows the search directory form, which allows users to filter by state, date range, and keywords. The final screenshot shows a full-page view of a newspaper issue, with a red box indicating the area selected for clipping.

Browse

⇒ Browse by newspaper and date.

Cyndi's List

cyndislist.com

Cyndi's List houses a compiled list of newspaper resources that might be of interest during your search. This can be a great resource to get an idea (and specific resources) for what's available online for your subject rather than just relying on your ability to search.

The newspapers in the "Newspapers" category are broken down by letter alphabetically rather than topic. Searches can be conducted by:

State

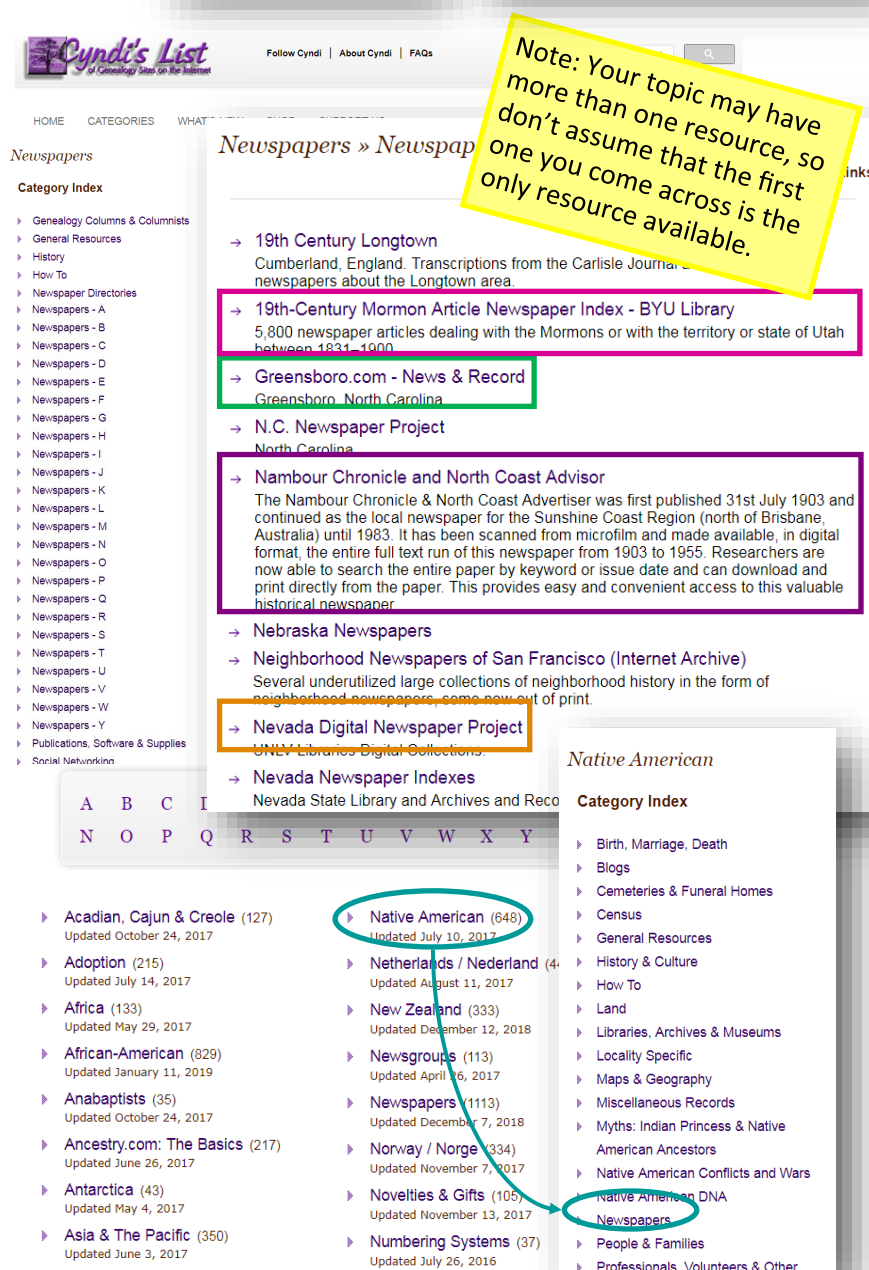

County/City

Country/Region

Topic

Another way to search for newspapers is to navigate to the category you're interested in, and see if there's any newspapers listed as a resource for that subject.

If there are, you can browse more specifically here for possible sources of interest.

FamilySearch Research Wiki

familysearch.org/wiki/

The FamilySearch Research Wiki contains over 88,000 articles, which include information - and resources - available for each subject. Under the “Search” tab on the homepage, you can navigate to the Research Wiki.

You can search by the county/location you are interested in, and if the wiki for that place has any information on newspapers, it will be listed in the “Contents” box at the top of the page.

You can click on this link (or scroll down the page) to discover what newspaper resources are available for your search.

For newspapers in general, there are two main wikis available for you to browse:

United States Newspapers

Carlsbad City Library

carlsbadlibrary.org

In addition to its subscription to Newspapers.com, the library's genealogy collection contains a number of newspaper records from all over the country.

To see what's available, you can search the library catalog. You can search by your specific subject, or by broader term (like "newspaper") to see what the collection contains.

Note: When searching the catalog, you should narrow down the results to just genealogy, either using the dropdown menu or the "Shelf Location" section in the left column.

You can further refine your results by indicating your subject of interest in the "Subject" section in the left column.

Once you've found a resource of interest, you can find its physical location in the collection by call number.

Local Repositories

Like many libraries, the Carlsbad City Library has a history collection, which includes newspapers local to the area of Carlsbad.

Should you find yourself looking for more newspaper resources available in your areas of interest, try state and local libraries, as well as universities and state archives. It's possible they've digitized some (or all) of their collections, or will send you a copy of the newspaper you're searching for.
